HLB MEMBER FIRM, ENERGY CONSULTING, LAUNCHES NEW SERVICE

HLB Russian Group member, Energy Consulting, has launched a new service designed to provide new international and local businesses in Russia with special acceleration support.

Energy Consulting has opened business-accelerator “Greenhouse” which renders a unique scope of services for business growing and development. The team of experienced practitioners delivers a full range of services for bringing up your business - from set-up to intensive growth.

Greenhouse is designed to render services to legal entities, private entrepreneurs and non-commercial organizations. The scope of services includes marketing and PR support, tax, legal, business and IT consulting for Russian and mainly international companies willing to enlarge their footprint on the Russian market.

Energy Consulting’s experts provide consulting in question and answer form and also deliver a complete range of services including support for establishing a legal presence of international business and their ongoing support.

Business-accelerator “Greenhouse” also provides to its clients all necessary marketing services – from business idea statement till full marketing maintenance. The scope of services is defined individually, taking into consideration the requirements and available resources.

Victoria Salamatina, CEO Energy Consulting | Audit: “We decided to present a full range of services for business growing for Russian and mainly international companies willing to enlarge their footprint on the Russian market taking into account references from our partners from HLB International net and our long experience of successful business growing and tax, legal, business, IT consulting practice. The offer should match the demand and we are ready to realize it.”
