
MASUZYO MULENGA, HLB RELIANCE (ZAMBIA), WINS THE INTERNATIONAL ACCOUNTING BULLETIN AWARDS IN THE “YOUNG ACCOUNTANT OF THE YEAR” CATEGORY

Masuzyo Mulenga, HLB Reliance, Zambia, has just won the International Accounting Bulletin Awards in the “Young Accountant of the Year” category -while WithumSmith+Brown, a member of HLB in the US, was nominated in the “Best Employer of the Year” category.

Masuzyo Mulenga, a 25 year old Chartered Accountant affiliate member of the Association of Chartered Certified Accountants, is an Audit & Assurance manager at HLB Reliance, HLB’s member firm in Zambia. Thanks to her outstanding capacities and excellent knowledge of International Financial reporting standards and local framework, Masuzyo has risen fast and steadily in her firm where she actively participates in the strategic growth and leadership of HLB International in Southern and Eastern Africa. Masuzyo has demonstrated remarkable leadership, relationship and team building skills when dealing with various audit assignments.

Masuzyo has distinguished herself within HLB by winning the HLB Winning International Business challenge last year, an annual course dedicated to developing the international business skills of younger HLB talents. As a student in the ACCA programme Masuzyo obtained an outstanding student award as Best Student in Zambia in the CAT paper 3 programme in the December 2006 intake.

On receiving the prize Masuzyo commented to be “greatly honoured and humbled by this award. It is quite a pleasant surprise to me because I know there are many great accountants out there. Many thanks to the International Accounting Bulletin and to HLB International for honouring me in this great way. I would like to also thank Shuko Ndhlobu, my managing partner at HLB Reliance, for believing in me and for his mentorship. And many thanks to HLB Reliance team, this award is for us all. Let’s keep soaring to great heights!”
